Introduction

There are several spellings of the name Badgley: Baggely, Bagley, Bagiley, Baggiley, Bagueley, Baggely and Baggagiegh. Badgley is of a Cheshire County, England, family.

Samantha Badgley Burt was my great-grandmother. When my research began on the Badgley family, I was unaware this pioneer family was from the Westfield area. When they were traced to New Jersey a wealth of material became available through records found at libraries, historical societies, and archives.

I had grown up visiting the Badgley farmhouse in Alma, Michigan, which was built around 1878. Then I learned a 250 year old Badgley farmhouse existed just a few miles from our home in Westfield!

The following material has been gleaned from several sources throughout the United States and an attempt made to compile all the material into one manuscript. This manuscript depicts historical information combined with the genealogy of the Badgley family with the emphasis on my line. Names, dates, and places have been copied from records, they are not certified as correct, but every attempt was made to verify the information whenever possible.

The exact date of arrival of Anthony Badgley from England is not known. Badgleys were in New York as early as 1688, in New Jersey in 1747, Virginia in 1773, Illinois in 1797, and Michigan in 1847. Anthony Badgley was married to Elizabeth around 1692. A petition for a warrant of survey for his lot in Flushing, Long Island, New York, was made under the date of March 3, 1694, in order to put a stop to the encroachments of "Hemp Lot" by Thomas Hedger and others. This petition was granted on August 9, 1697. In 1698, when a list of all inhabitants was made, Anthony and his wife, three children and a negro slave were shown. In 1700, they are known to have had a plantation at Flushing. They are listed in the town census in the Dutch Section, possible Elizabeth was Dutch. Anthony was one of a company which purchased through Peter Sonmans, one hundred and seventy thousand acres lying about thirty-three miles to the northwest of Elizabethtown in New Jersey. The Indians were paid 200 pounds in cash and goods for this tract, the Badgley share was one-fourteenth. A copy of this deed precedes this page. In July 1711, the Tax List shows "account of each inhabitant of Flushing provisions as follows: 23 pounds of bacon, 6 bushels of wheat, and one bushel of Indian corn." In 1715 he was a sargeant in Captain Jonathan Wright's Company Militia.

2. George² (Anthony¹) Badgley, second son of Anthony and Elizabeth, was born 1696 in Flushing, moved to Elizabethtown, New Jersey. He married in 1717 to Rachel Hatfield, the daughter of Cornelius and Sarah. George died in Elizabethtown September, 1759, said to have drowned. Under the date of April 12, 1777, Samuel Force of Vermont gave a bond to John Badgley of Canoe Brook, obligating himself to pay the widow, Rachel Badgley, 30 pounds. The witnesses to the bond were Isaac Badgley and Thomas Force. The bond is receipt dated March 29, 1778, by John Badgley, for 31.10 pounds, no reason for cancellation. Mrs. Badgley died at Elizabethtown in 1794, and was buried August 9th in the Presbyterian Churchyard as "Mrs. Badgley, sister of Cornelius Hatfield".

The children of George² and Rachel (Hatfield) Badgley:

4. Sarah² (Anthony¹) Badgley, second daughter of Anthony and Elizabeth, was born 1698-1700 in Flushing. She was married in Elizabethtown in 1721 to Joseph Doty, son of Samuel. His father was Edward Doty, a Mayflower passenger. Joseph was born in Piscataway, New Jersey, October 30, 1696. They came to Elizabethtown with John and James Badgley in 1736 and settled in Stoney Hill Valley. He was a trustee of the New Providence Presbyterian Church. Joseph died in New Providence, September 10, 1768, Sarah died June 30, 1785.

John, James, George, and their three sisters, Phebe, Sarah, and Elizabeth came from Long Island to Elizabethtown. George settled there, John and James and the sisters settled in the valley between the first and second mountains in the year 1736. The Elizabethtown surveyor, Joseph Morse, surveyed the 400 acre area between the mountains lying along the Blue Brook and extending south to the top of the first mountain. A neighbor, Peter Willcockse, came to the Blue Brook valley around 1720, he married Phebe Badgley.

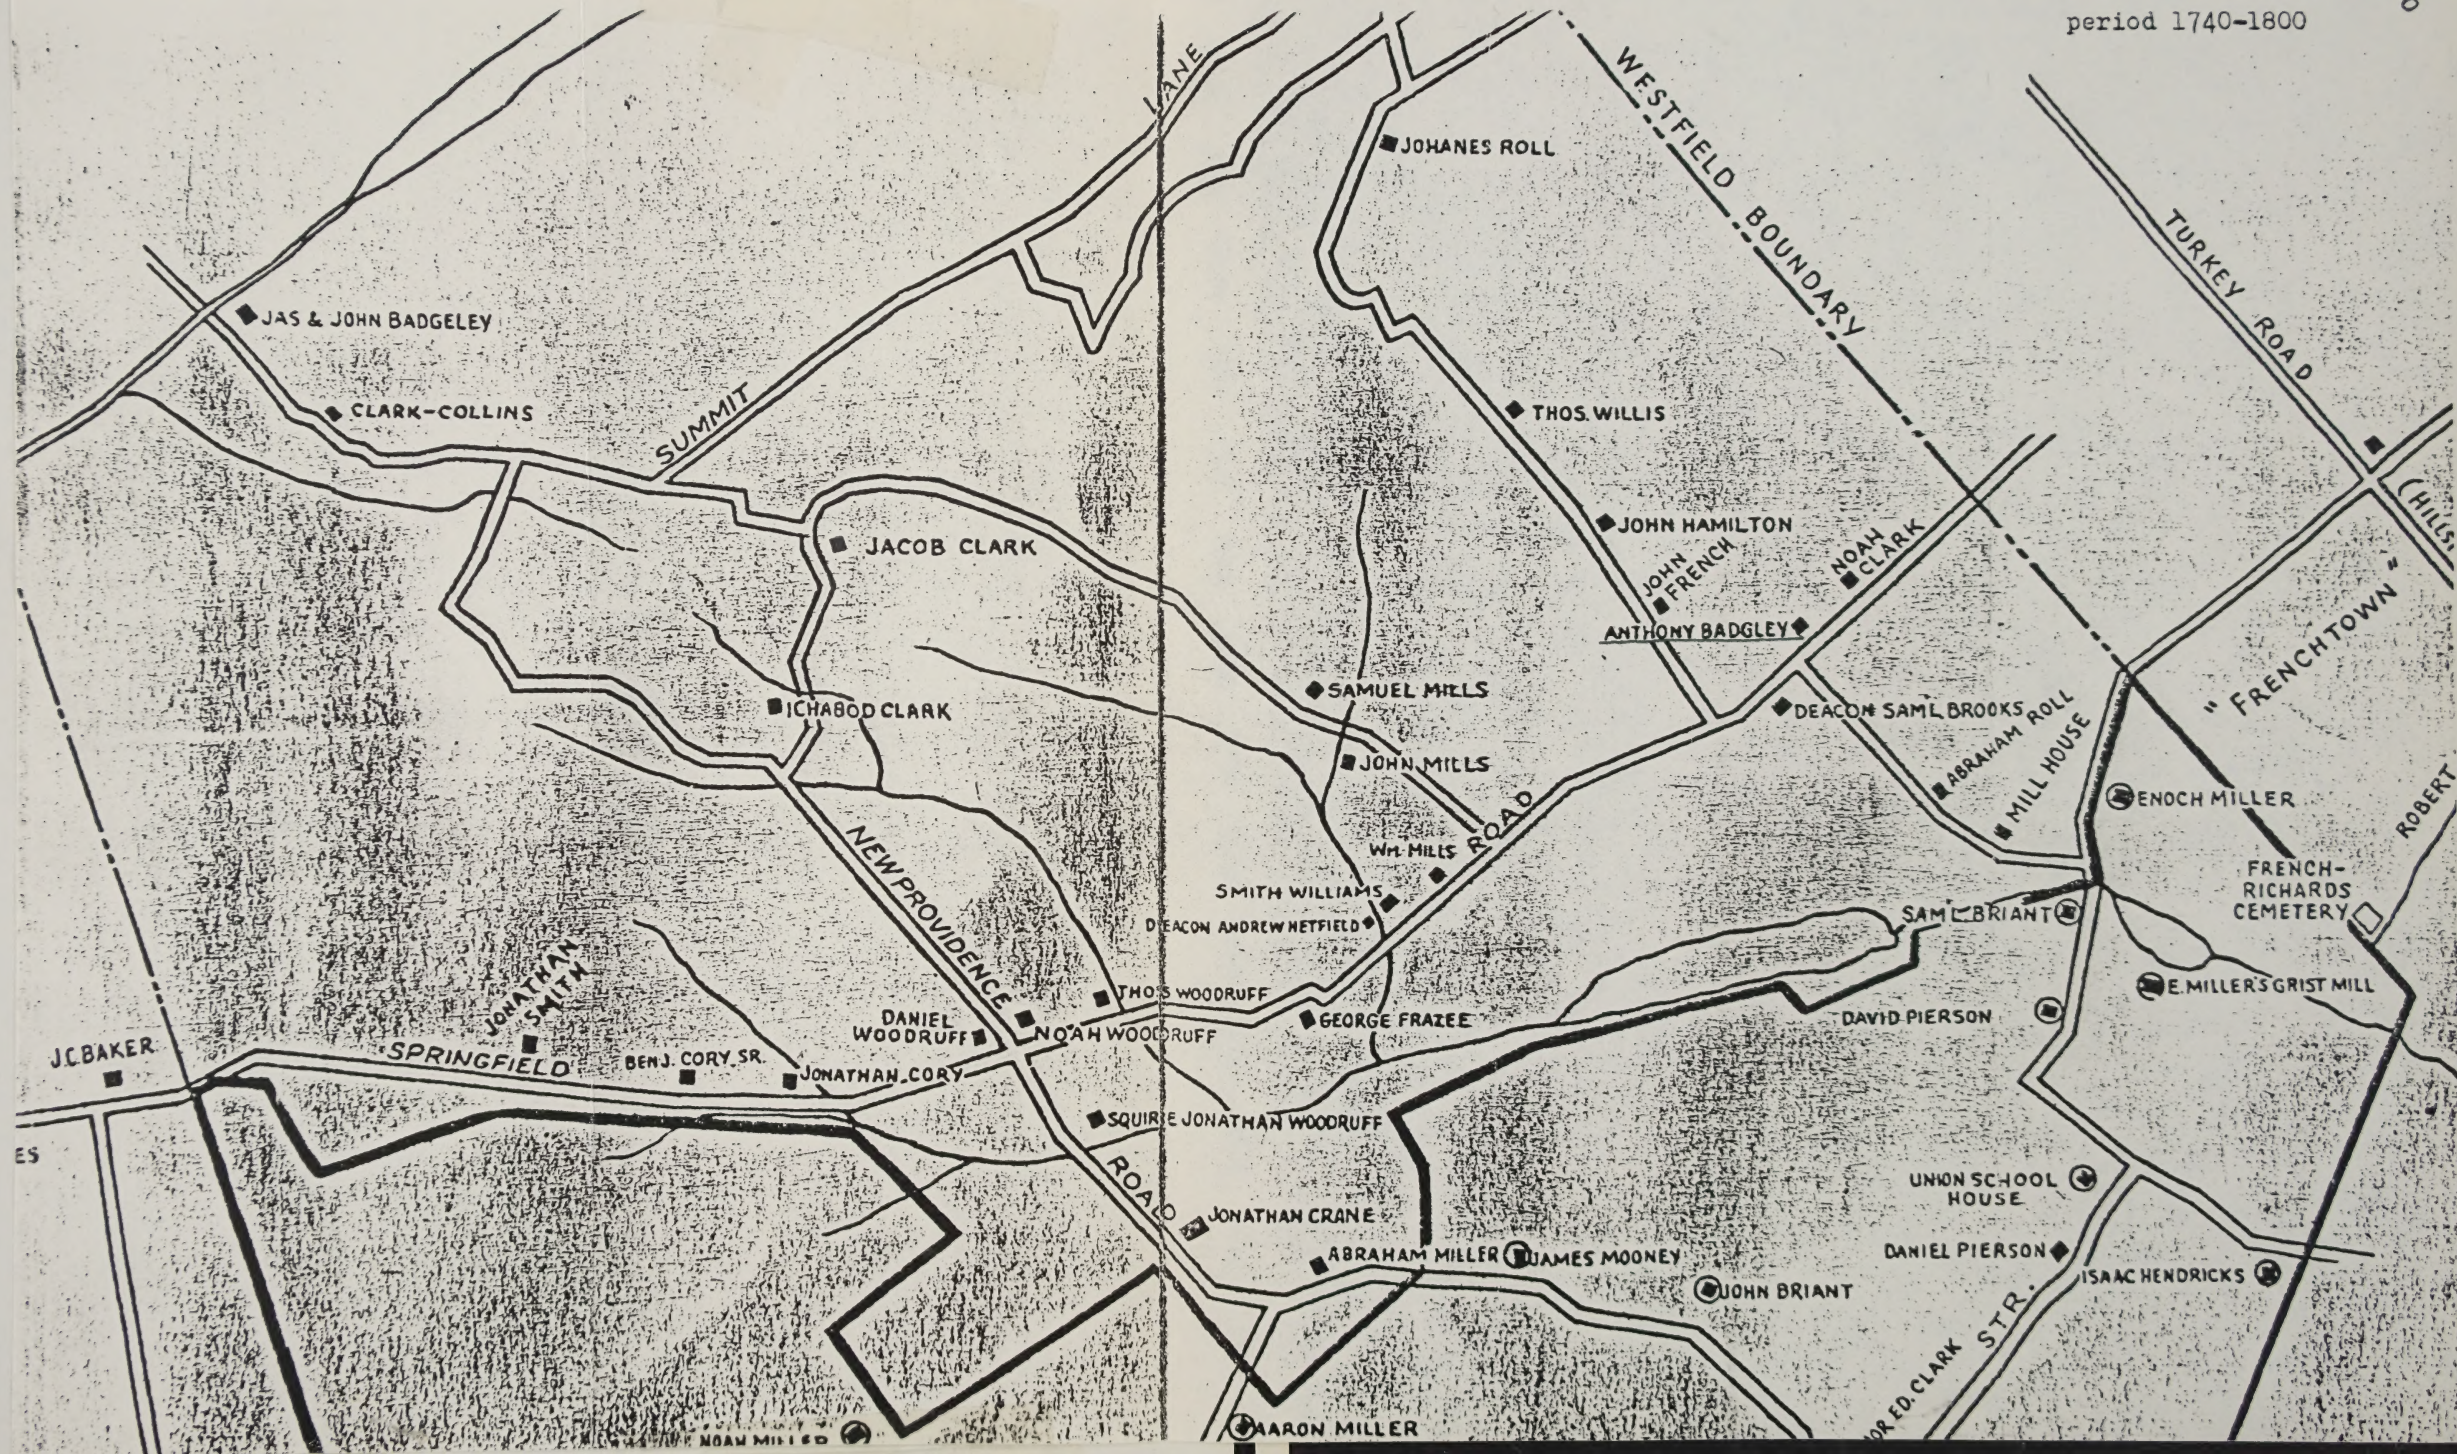

Badgley House—off New Providence Rd., Mountainside

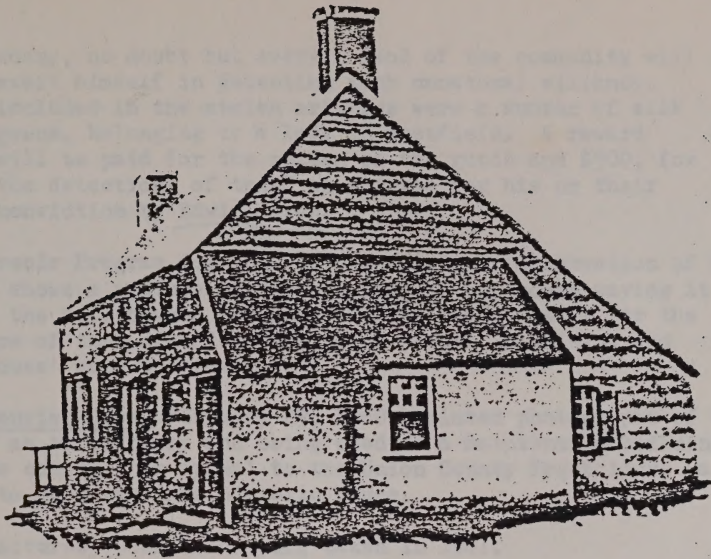

The Badgley farmhouse on New Providence Road was built by the pioneers, James and John. It was apparently built in two sections, the earliest section may date from the early 1700's. It is located off New Providence Road in the Union County Park Commission Watchung Reservation. It is a handmade house, the frames were hewn in the woods, the lath and shingles are hand-split, the plaster made of lime and clay from their own ground. The nails were made by the local blacksmith, white pine pegs were used to fasten the frames and floor. One section uses gun posts in the framing. When Mr. Frederick S. Taggart bought the farm in 1909, the old house was beyond repair and he moved it to the rear. Mr. A. Ayers bought the house later. It is now owned by the Park Commission and used as a storage shed.

When the British were expected to enter Westfield, the residents sent their valuables to Badgleys thinking they would be safe so far out of town. It may have been raided because the farmhouse was used as a refugee by "rebel" citizens of Westfield during the Battle of Short Hills, June 26, 1777, and again during the Battle of Springfield. The New Jersey Journal on July 5, 1780, printed the following:

Raiders at Badgleys

During the recent raids in this vicinity, quantities of linen, clothing, a state lottery ticket, silver, etc., were stolen from the home of John Badgley, living on the mountain above Westfield. As the above articles were sent abroad to keep them from the raids of our more than savage

During the recent raids in this vicinity, quantities of linen, clothing, a state lottery ticket, silver, etc., were stolen from the home of John Badgley, living on the mountain above Westfield. As the above articles were sent abroad to keep them from the raids of our more than savage enemy, no doubt but every friend of the community will exert himself in detecting such unnatural villancy. Included in the stolen articles were a number of silk gowns, belonging to a lady in Westfield. A reward will be paid for the return of the goods and $500, for the detections of thief or thieves for his or their conviction by Edwin Marsh.

A Souvenir Program for the 200th Anniversary Celebration of Westfield shows a picture of the old Badgley farmhouse saying it was "over the hill beyond Pot Luck and was headquarters for the farmers of that district when 'barn dances, raisings, and barbecues' were the fashion."

The Courier-News, February 29, 1980, printed photographs of the house as it is today and being used as a maintenance building by the county. An appeal to the Union County Freeholders was made to preserve this historic house.

Preceding pages 7 and 8 give some history of the Badgley farm house that stood in the Watchung Reservation of the Union County Park Commission. The pictures shown were taken in 1981.

Since that time the building has been completely destroyed by fire. On May 3, 1984, a man was charged with arson. In September, 1985, the arsonist pleaded guilty. Newspaper clippings are shown on the following pages.

The Badgley homestead had been placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1976. A copy of the nomination form follows.

My thanks to Florence Whitehead of the Genealogical Society of the West Fields for furnishing the newspaper clippings from the Elizabeth Daily Journal and suggesting this material be added to The Badgley Genealogy.

Also, a special thanks to Daniel J. Bernier, Museum Curator, at the Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation. After the fire, he was placed in charge of preserving what remained of the house. He indicated the original beams had been set aside for safekeeping and that the ashes were being sifted for artifacts. But because the house was literally burned to the ground only the massive beams and iron nails had been recovered.

His explanation on construction of the house follows:

"When the Badgley house was originally constructed, now thought to have been prior to 1700, it was framed with oak timbers that were hand-hewn and held together with mortise and tenon joints (a flat tongue at the end of one beam is inserted into a rectangular hole in the other). The joints were not held together with any iron nails, but rather with wooden pins.

Any nails used in attaching hardware or siding to the house had to be handwrought, such as by a blacksmith. These nails..... having been pounded into shape with a hammer.

Nails used in attaching hinges to a door were subject to a lot of strain from the weight of an open door and would pull out easily. To prevent this, the nails were driven all the way through the door or its frame, out the other side. They would be clinched over to secure them, or make them "dead", hence, the expression "dead as a doornail".

Mr. Bernier stated that an exhibit about the Deserted Village had opened at the Trailside Nature and Science Center that included nails similar to those used in the Badgley house as well as two sections of an oak beam salvaged from the ashes!

A survey of the Badgley house was done in 1972 by Charles H. Detwiller, Jr., and his son. It contains an historical outline, architectural analysis, and a preservation proposal. My request to enter this material in this manuscript went unanswered, therefore check the reference librarian for the copy on file.

Union man charged with torching landmark

By KATHLEEN LONGO
Journal Staff Writer

MOUNTAINSIDE — A Union Township man has been arrested on charges including aggravated arson in connection with a Wednesday night fire in which an historic barn dating back to 1730 was destroyed.

Richard Alan Wanczyk, 26, of the 300 block of Delaware Ave., Union, was being held in Union County Jail on $35,000 bail. Charges filed against him by county officials are aggravated arson and uttering terroristic threats. Municipal charges also were filed against him for possession of marijuana, resisting arrest, and assaulting a policeman.

Assistant Union County Prosecutor Raymond Zeltner said Wanczyk used either a match or lighter fluid to set the 10:30 p.m. fire Wednesday in Ayres' Barn, a National Historic Landmark, behind the Trailside Museum off Glenside Avenue in Watchung Reservation. No one was injured as a result of the blaze, which took 3½ hours to get under control.

Zeltner said flames ignited combustibles consisting of straw and rags that were inside the building.

"There was no apparent motive ... he claims to have been drinking," said Zeltner.

He said the suspect's father had "dropped him off in the afternoon to enjoy nature."

Although Zeltner said the suspect denied being in the area at the time of the fire, he said two Summit policemen who were canvassing the area after the fire spotted the youth's father picking him up in a section about a half mile from the burning fire.

Mountainside police stopped the car on New Providence Road and arrested Wanczyk on charges of possession of marijuana, resisting arrest, and assaulting a policeman. At the time, Zeltner said a scuffle occurred between the suspect and Patrolman Todd Turner, the arresting officer.

Wanczyk was transported to the Elizabeth General Medical Center psychiatric ward, where he was treated and later transferred to Union County Jail.

Firemen said the blaze was difficult to fight because of the 1,500-foot distance to the nearest water supply.

Formerly known as the Badgley House, the building was located in what was then Westfield Township. Historians say it may have been used by nearby settlers as a refuge against Indian attack.

The Badgley House had been the home of a prominent family in the area, but had been moved in 1906 a distance 200 feet up the Watchung Mountains and used as a barn.

The building, at the time of the fire, was used for equipment storage by the parks maintenance division of the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation. Damage was estimated at $30,000, with a loader tractor and riding mower tractor destroyed, county officials said.

Also destroyed were seven or eight hand lawn mowers and 500 gallons of gasoline that were stored under ground and used for trucks.

Parolee admits guilt in Watchung fire

A 26-year-old Union man Monday pleaded guilty in Superior Court to setting the May 1984 fire that destroyed a 250-year-old building in the Watchung Reservation.

Richard Alan Wanczyk, who appeared before Judge Alexander Menza in Elizabeth, admitted starting the blaze that destroyed the Ayres Barn, a historical structure located behind the Union County Trailside Nature and Science Center, Assistant Prosecutor Susan Scarola said.

Portions of the barn, originally known as the Badsley Homestead, date back to the early 1700s, according to authorities. The structure had been listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1976. Settlers once used the building as shelter from Indian attacks.

At the time of the fire May 3, 1984, it was being used to store tractors and other county maintenance equipment, authorities said.

Under the plea agreement, Wanczyk, who was on parole for a 1984 burglary conviction at the time of the fire, faces up to five years imprisonment.

Authorities said Wanczyk set fire to grass and straw inside the building, not only destroying the barn, but also damaging $30,000 worth of equipment inside.

The fire was spotted by a county police officer on routine patrol. Two firemen arriving at the blaze saw Wanczyk walking near the area and getting into his car, officials said.

The firefighters noted the license plate number, which was turned over to police. Wanczyk was arrested nearby by a Mountainview policeman.

Investigators used a sneaker print found at the scene to connect him with the fire.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The present structure is what is left of a frame storey and one-half residence "Saltbox" which has been converted to use as a barn and currently also serves as locker room for park police. The building appears to have 3 stages of construction. The earliest part, possibly 17th Century, consisting of one large room with loft above and leanto. This forms the central section of the building, another leanto on the South East End appears to have been added around 1735 and a center stair hall and large room on the North end also about 1735. 20th Century additions appear to have been added to these 18th Century additions.

Many very unusual early framing features still remain with the "Gun Stock" corner posts and Early window frame being exposed in the 17th Century portion. The North end ceiling beams reflects the original presence of an unusual "Dutch" jambless fireplace as the #2 floor joist has a deep champher reflecting a very large opening below at ceiling level, similar to that in the Jonathan Hasbrouk House in Newbury, N. Y. Unfortunately at the time the house was moved (in 1909) for use as a barn, the chimneys were removed. There are however, photos showing these and the house in its original location, which incidentally is undisturbed, about 450 ft. West of its present location, also on Park property.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This building has played an important role in the history of the entire area for close to 300 years. It represents one of the earliest settlers homes positively identified as belonging to the Badgley family in 1736 in the second general allotment of Elizabethtown lands. There are also references that John & James Badgley had settled here long before this allotment of land and very possibly prior to 1699 as James Badgley was a founder of the Clinker Lot division relating to the survey of this land at that time. Ricard's History of Union Co. refers to "James Badgley and Peter Wilcox having located on the mountain before any persons settled below" (prior to 1720).

Further references to people taking refuge in the Badgley house during Indian attacks in 1692 also in Ricard's History of Union Co. and again during the Battle of The Short Hills, June 27, 1777, a place of hiding for Scotch Plains residents, resulting in punitive reprisals in 1780 by Loyalists (N.J. Journal)

Later in its life it provided the first Sunday School for the area recording in 1815 - 1819

It remained in the Badgley family until the 1890's when it was sold to Arthur Ayers and eventually the Union Co. Park Commission and established as part of the Watchung Reservation in 1947.

Cornelius³ (George², Anthony¹), son of George and Rachel (Hatfield) Badgley, was born at Elizabethtown in 1728. He was named after his maternal grandfather Cornelius Hatfield. He married Elsey Townley, daughter of James and Mary (Garthwaite) Townley, great-granddaughter of immigrant, Col. Richard Townley, was born at Elizabethtown in 1732. They were members of St. John's Episcopal Church. He is shown on the Revolutionary Census of New Jersey List II, 1778-1780, Tax Ratables of Essex County. Cornelius died June 10, 1794, at 66 years and is buried in the First Presbyterian Churchyard in Elizabeth. Elsey died "of a fright" on July 21, 1809, when she was informed of the death of her son, Edward, the day before. She is buried in the First Presbyterian Cemetery although all the children were christened in the Episcopal Church. The Townleys were Episcopalians, the Badgleys and Hatfields were Presbyterians. Richard Townley gave land for the Episcopal Church, Matthias Hatfield donated land for the Presbyterian Church. At Elsey's death her funeral services were held in the Episcopal Church but she was buried in the Presbyterian Churchyard. Their tombstone reads:

Their days are number'd, and their spirits fled
Their gone, the husband and the wife are dead
Nor weeping friends nor healing art could save
Their bodies from the cold and silent grave.

Anthony³ (James², Anthony¹) son of James and Hannah (Kelsey) Badgley, was born 1733. He married 175_ to Anne, daughter of Johnathon and Jennet (Magle) Woodruff, who was born 175_ at the foot of the mountain on the road from Westfield to New Providence. They lived on what is now Mountain Avenue in Westfield Township. In 1785-6 there was a great religious revival at Westfield and in 1786 eleven of the 34 people who joined the church were Badgleys. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Badgley were on the Communicant List dated 1786. A 1757 Salary List shows agreement with the Minister for 7 shillings. Anne Woodruff was the sister of Aaron Woodruff, one of the jurors at the trial of James Morgan, slayer of the famous fighting parson Reverend James Caldwell. The Westfield Township List shows that Anthony was living in Westfield in a one-story frame house, 20 x 34 feet with 6 windows; owned one outhouse, and 100 acres of land, including the lot on which the house stood. The total assessed valuation was 600 pounds. Another list, taken about the same time shows that he owned two horses and three horned cattled. Anthony died June 30, 1803, and is buried in the Westfield Presbyterian Churchyard. His tombstone reads:

Affliction fore longtime I bore,
Physician(s) were in vain,
Till God alone did hear my moan,
And ease me of my pain.

John³ (John², Anthony¹) son of John and Euphemia (Radley) Badgley, was born in Elizabethtown about 174_. He lived near Westfield and served as a private with the Essex County troops in the Revolutionary War. He was married at Westfield, September 23, 1770, to Sarah Clark, daughter of David and Sarah. Sarah died either 1775 or 1776 and John married Jenny Scudder on August 24, 1777. John's will abstract reads:

1785, April 11, Badgley, John, of Essex Co. Int. Adm'rs--
John Hole and Aaron Woodruff; both of said Co. Witness--
Aaron Ogden. Lib. 27, p. 379.

On May 11, 1786, John Hole was made a guardian of John Badgley, then a minor. The widow baptized four children at the Westfield Presbyterian Church on July 24, 1785, and on July 31st the widow joined the church. The church records refer to the first three children as "grandchildren of widow Clark" and the four youngest are simply called "children of John Badgley, deceased". This was possibly the "widow Jennet Badgley" who lived in her own house in Westfield in 1789. She then owned 42 acres of land.

Isaac⁴ (George³, George², Anthony¹) son of George and Charity (Noe) Badgley, was born in Elizabethtown in 1750. His first wife died July 25, 1776. His second wife was Joanna Dickerson, daughter of Samuel Sweazy and widow of Philemon Dickerson (1739-1777). They had a child buried at New Providence. Isaac Badgley witnessed on April 12, 1777, the bond of Samuel Force to provide for his grandmother. In the New Jersey Journal of August 7, 1782, a public vendor was advertised to be held at the house where Isaac lived in Morris County, by order of the executors of the estate of Philemon Dickerson, one of whom was the latter's widow and wife of Isaac. On August 1, 1776, Isaac was charged by William Woodruff, Sexton of Elizabethtown Presbyterian Church, with funerals of his wife and brother. He served as a private in the Morris County Militia in the Revolutionary War. Isaac administered his father's estate in May 1794. Isaac may have been a Loyalist as were some of the Sweazys.

Ichabod⁴ (George³, George², Anthony¹) son of George and Charity (Noe) Badgley, was born 1760. He married Sarah Hathaway in Morristown April 18, 1781. Sarah was the daughter of Dr. Jonathon and Lydia (Peck) Hathaway and was born between Rockaway and Morristown, baptized at Morristown June 5, 1763. Ichabod and his wife lived near Denville, serving as private with the Morris County troops in the Revolutionary War. He died of small pox about 1803 and shortly after his widow and children moved to Webster, Monroe County, New York, where she married a Mr. Case. The Combined Registers, 1742-1885, of Morristown Presbyterian Church show Ichabod and Sarah as members.

Moses⁴ (Joseph³, James², Anthony¹) son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Scudder) Badgley, was born near Springfield on September 2, 1756. He married Susanna Lacy who was born 1750-1 and died December 28, 1799, 49 years, is buried at the New Providence Presbyterian Church. Moses then married Nancy Oakley, widow of Thomas Oakley of Passaic Valley. Moses and Nancy lived on Longhill. Moses contributed 7 shillings to the support of the Reverend Jonathon Elmer, pastor of the church at Turkey. In 1780, Mr. Elmer's account book has the following entry: "Moses Badgley received $450 in part for a gun July 1780--towards the Gun borrowed of Sylvanus Totten, Dollars 80 or 100, if I mistake not". A New Jersey Historical Society bio file states: "Moses Badgley, son of Joseph, ran away from John Hancock in New York, November 9, 1775".

The children of Moses⁴ and Susanna (Oakley) Badgley:

Jonathon⁴ (Anthony³, James², Anthony¹) son of Anthony and Anne (Woodruff) Badgley, was born in Westfield on July 11, 1759, baptized August 2, 1761. He married Lydia Scudder on June 9, 1782, she died of consumption August 23, 1820, after having seven children. Jonathon married Hannah Searing on September 18, 1821, in the Springfield Presbyterian Church. He and Hannah had six children. For 26 months he served as a private in the Essex County troops in the Revolutionary War under 13 different captains, fighting in the Battle of Connecticut Farms. He applied for a pension in 1833. They lived in what is now New Providence Township on the first mountain between Baltusrol and Summit. He died May 2, 1834, and his widow married Ebeneser Littell on July 11, 1837, who died May 2, 1852. Jonathon's homestead was owned in 1903 by Wesley Faitoute.

Anthony⁴ (Anthony³, James², Anthony¹) son of Anthony and Ann (Woodruff) Badgley, was baptized at Westfield on November 14, 1762. He married Abigail Hedges, daughter of Uriah and Phebe (Dayton) Hedges, born in the Passiac Valley in 1769 and died May 1, 1822. They lived on the north side of the first mountain. It is generally accepted that the first Sunday School in Westfield grew out of the movement in Elizabethtown. Mrs. Abigail Badgley allowed the Badgley homestead on New Providence Road to be used as the first Sunday School in the area. First teachers and students included many pioneer families, such as: Miller, Cory, Clark, Roll, Hetfield, and Frazee. The Reverend Edwin Downer originated the first Sunday School in 1821. Edwin Downer (1798-1868) was the son of Samuel Downer. In 1981, the Mountainside Gospel Chapel celebrated the 160th anniversary of its founding.

- A MENTION OF FRENCH--RICHARDS FAMILY BURYING GROUND - a Date of 1785:---

The Soudder Family Bible record by Benjamin Soudder of Springfield (1735--1822) records that this Benjamin's sister Elizabeth Soudder married Joseph BADGLEY on May 25, 1749. It discloses that their Second Son, TIMOTHY BADGLEY was Born on Sunday, APRIL 12, 1752. Further States: "SEPTEMBER 6, 1785 at 10 aClock TIMOTHY BADGLEY BURIED att FRENCHES BURYING PLACE. He DIED Munday, Sept. 5th, (1785) att Brak of Day."

This TIMOTHY BADGLEY was the Posthumous Son of the REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER of that Name.

VOLUME VI of the CALENDER of WILLS (1781--1785) of the NEW JERSEY ARCHIVES reveals that this TIMOTHY BADGLEY Died Intestate, and on OCTOBER 2, 1785, ROBERT FRENCH and Anthony BADGLEY, Jr., were appointed Administrators of His Estate. His Widow, Sarah (an Osborn) survived him.

These Facts & Circumstances clearly reveal a close Relationship between the BADGLEY and FRENCH FAMILIES of SPRINGFIELD, N. J., and which accounts for this REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER'S BURIAL in THE FRENCH FAMILY BURYING GROUND.

ADDENDA

Correction on page 40:

Elizabeth Holloway was the wife of George Washington Badgley⁶

Additions:

Marriage Certificate of Clark E. W. Burt and Samantha Badgley.

A Badgley/Burt family album was found this year in Alma, Michigan. In addition to several family photographs the above mentioned marriage certificate was included. The album is in the possession of a great-grandson of George.

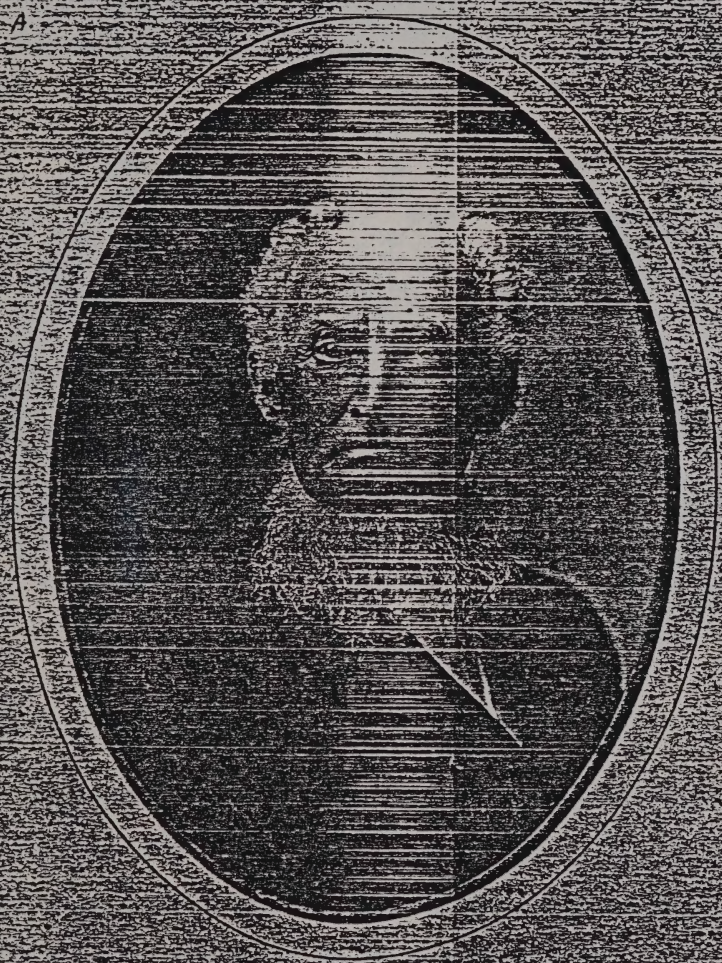

Earl was thought to be the maiden name of Elizabeth, wife of George, shown on a record found at The Ohio Historical Society, the only place I found her with a maiden name. I would assume Holloway to be the correct name.
